

Minnesota Taconite Workers

Lung Health Partnership

Update

UNIVERSITY OF MINNESOTA

MEETING ANNOUNCEMENT and INVITATION

- WHO: Minnesota Taconite Workers Lung Health Partnership
The Minnesota Taconite Workers Lung Health Partnership is a group of organizations with an interest in the health of Minnesota's Iron Range taconite workers, their families and communities. Organizations include the University of Minnesota, mining companies, unions, health care providers, legislators, and local, state and federal agencies.
- WHEN: Thursday, December 18, 2008
6:30 p.m.
- WHERE: Mountain Iron Community Center
8586 Enterprise Drive South (south of Highway 169 between Mineral Ave. and Mud Lake Rd.)
218-748-7570
- RSVP: By phone to (612)624-6708
By e-mail to sphdean@umn.edu
Please indicate the organization name and the person(s) who will be representing the organization at the meeting.
- AGENDA: Update on research proposed by the University of Minnesota
- Welcome – Partnership Co-Chairs John R. Finnegan, Jr., Dean, School of Public Health, and Ron Dicklich, Executive Director, Range Association of Schools and Municipalities
 - Research project update
 - Miner Health Project Update – Jeffrey Mandel, M.D., School of Public Health
 - Geology Project Update – Tamara Diedrich, Ph.D., Natural Resources Research Institute
 - Next Steps
 - Updates from Partners
 - Discussion, questions

For more information, please contact , University of Minnesota School of Public Health at (612)625-7134 or dharvey@umn.edu. Visit the Minnesota Taconite Workers Lung Health Partnership Web Site: www.sph.umn.edu/lunghealth.